

Branford Schools

There was an “old red schoolhouse” on the Green during the late 1700s to early 1800s about where the Academy is today.

1799- Mill Plain School, closed 1929, now a house

1800-1890 were several Stony Creek School locations

1820- The Academy

1845- Plantsville School, closed 1895, long gone

1846- Quarter School (Bradley Street), closed 1880s, now a house

1866- Center School, demolished 1939

circa 1868- Paved Street School, closed 1929, a house, demolished 1985

circa 1870- old Canoe Brook School about where Starbucks is today, closed 1898

circa 1878- old Damascus School, closed 1929 and demolished

1878- old Harbor Street School, closed 1922, long gone

1879- old, old Short Beach School, moved and became a house in 1909

1893- Stony Creek School, closed 1981, now offices

1894- Laurel Street School, closed 1976, offices, demolished 1994

1898- Canoe Brook School, 1986 became Senior Center

1901- Hillside Avenue built as a fire house, school 1915-1928, police station 1932-1974, demolished 1993

1909- Old Short Beach School, closed 1972, now a house

1912- Saltonstall School, demolished 1941

1915- Brushy Plain School, closed 1929, now a house

1915- old Indian Neck School, now community groups

1917- Harrison Avenue, closed 1974, now community groups
1922- Harbor Street School, now Branford Counseling Center
1928- High School on Eades Street, now Sliney School
1949- New Short Beach School, now Orchard House
1950- New Indian Neck School
1955- Branford Hills School, was the twin of Pine Orchard School, torn down 2015
1958- Branford High School
1960- new Brushy Plain School now Murphy School
1960- new Damascus School, now Tisko School
1961- St. Marys School
1965- Branford Hall School of Business founded 1971- Wightwood School, closed about 2005, now vacant
1972- Intermediate School, now Walsh School 1974- Branford Early Learning Center founded as Branford Day Care Center, has had different locations

High Schools

Center School
Laurel Street
Eades Street
East Main Street

Jane P. Bouley
2018